

ACCESSIBILITY

Relate London North West, Hertfordshire, Mid Thames & Bucks (known as Relate, Relate LNWHMTB or the Centre)

Relate is committed to providing digital tools and services that are accessible to as many people as possible, regardless of circumstance or ability.

We strive to make our websites and digital products as accessible and usable as we can and follow many best practices to achieve this. However, we know that we can always do better and undertake continuous evaluation to improve through iteration.

We aim to conform to the W3C's Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 'AA' standard, and follow W3C's standards for web technology, such as HTML and CSS. Our website is designed to render correctly in all modern web browsers.